Further note that this is an open-book examination and therefore exam candidates are not allowed to bring computers or laptops. Exam candidates may bring any notes that they believe will aid them to pass the exam.

In addition, candidates are reminded that the exam starts at 09h00am promptly and therefore they should be seated by 08h30 to allow all exam logistics to be completed before 09h00.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION:

- All examination candidates must ensure that they sign the attendance register before the exam commences or as directed by the Exam Invigilator or before they leave the exam venue.
- Identification of exam candidates: All exam candidates' identification will be checked and therefore exam candidates must bring along their ID documents (not copies) for the identification check which is a normal exam practice.
- All Exam answer books have a tear-off slip which must be completed and once checked by exam invigilators, one of the tear-off slips will be kept by exam candidates as proof that they have written the exam.
- Question Papers: Exam Candidates are made aware that both the examination question paper and the answer script issued and or completed by the candidate are, and remain, proprietary to the Property Practitioners Regulatory Authority and may not under any circumstances be taken home with. If this happens, the candidate is automatically disqualified.
- Notes/material to the exam venue: The PPRA is aware that some candidates have notes or extra material that they take to the exam venue and then attach to the script for marking. This is not allowed and such pre-prepared notes will not be marked.
- Calculators: All exam candidates are reminded to bring along an ordinary calculator to the exam venue. No cell phone or tablet will be allowed to be used as a calculator. The PPRA staff or Invigilators at exam venues do not have spare calculators.
- Exam results: Exam results will be communicated within 6-8 weeks after the exam date. These will be viewable on the PPRA website by logging into the property practitioner's profile via the self-service portal *(MyPPRA portal).
- Appeals against exam results and review of exam scripts where required must be lodged within 14 days of receipt of results or the appeal will not be entertained. Appeals must be sent to resultsappeals@theppra.org.za together with payment proof. The schedule of fees on the PPRA website contains the applicable fees for appeals and script review.

All the best for the exams.
